Case No. 09-2-2

ADMINISTRATIVE CONSENT ORDER

WHEREAS, Wachovia Securities, LLC¹ ("Wachovia Securities"), is a broker-dealer registered in the state of Delaware with its home office at One North Jefferson Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, and Wachovia Capital Markets, LLC ("Wachovia Capital Markets", collectively with Wachovia Securities, "Wachovia"²), is a broker-dealer with its home office at 301 South College Street, Charlotte, North Carolina; and

WHEREAS, a multi-state task force conducted and coordinated investigations into Wachovia's marketing and sale of auction rate securities to investors during the period of January 1, 2006, through February 14, 2008; and

WHEREAS, after a books and records inspection by a multi-state task force on July 17, 2008,

¹ In October 2007, Wachovia Corporation acquired the Missouri-based broker dealer A. G. Edwards & Sons, Inc. ("AG Edwards") which was subsequently combined with Wachovia Securities, LLC.

² Factual allegations in this Order may apply to Wachovia Securities and/or Wachovia Capital Markets, but do not necessarily refer to both entities.

1 Wachovia Securities has cooperated fully with regulators conducting the investigations by responding to
2 inquiries, providing documentary evidence and other materials, and providing regulators with access to
3 information relating to the investigations; and

4 WHEREAS, Wachovia has advised regulators of its agreement to resolve the investigations
5 relating to its marketing and sale of auction rate securities to investors; and

6 WHEREAS, Wachovia agrees to, among other things, reimburse certain purchasers of auction
7 rate securities, and to make certain payments at the direction of the Securities Commissioner for the State
8 of Delaware ("Commissioner"); and

9 WHEREAS, Wachovia elects to permanently waive any right to a hearing and appeal under the 10 provisions of the Delaware Securities Act (6 Del. C. Ch. 73)("the Act") with respect to this Consent Order
11 (the "Order");

12 NOW, THEREFORE, the Commissioner, as administrator of the Act hereby enters this Order.

13 I.

14 FINDINGS OF FACT

15 1. Wachovia Securities admits the jurisdiction of the Commissioner and Wachovia Capital
16 Markets consents to the jurisdiction of the Commissioner for purposes of this Order. Neither admits nor 17 denies the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law contained in this Order, and each consents to the 18 entry of this Order by the Commissioner.

19 2. Auction rate securities are long-term debt or equity instruments that include auction
20 preferred shares of closed-end funds, municipal auction rate bonds, and various asset-backed auction rate
21 bonds (collectively referred to herein as "ARS"). While ARS are all long-term instruments, one
22 significant feature of ARS (which historically provided the potential for short-term liquidity) is the 23 interest/dividend reset through auctions that occur in varying increments of between 7 and 42 days. If an 24 auction is successful, investors are able to exit the ARS market on a short-term basis. If, however, an
25 auction "fails," investors are required to hold all or some of their ARS until the next successful auction in

1 order to liquidate their funds. Beginning in February 2008, the ARS market experienced widespread
2 failed auctions.

3 3. In early March 2008, Wachovia Securities' investors, unable to access their ARS funds,
4 began to submit complaints to various state securities regulators.

5 Marketing and Sales of ARS to Investors

6 4. In connection with the sale of ARS, some investors stated variously that they were told
7 by Wachovia Securities and its registered agents that ARS were:

- 8 a. just like cash;
- 9 b. same as cash;
- 10 c. safe as cash;
- 11 d. same as money markets;
- 12 e. safe as money markets;
- 13 f. cash equivalents;
- 14 g. short-term adjustable rate securities;
- 15 h. cash alternatives;
- 16 i. completely safe;
- 17 j. liquid at any time; and/or
- 18 k. always liquid at an auction.

19 Although marketed and sold to investors as safe, liquid, cash-like investments, and although the ARS
20 market had, in fact, functioned for more than twenty years with virtually no auction failures, ARS are 21 actually long-term instruments subject to a complex auction process that, upon failure, can lead to 22 illiquidity and lower interest rates.

23 5. Wachovia Securities further fostered the misconception that ARS were cash-like
24 instruments by providing account portfolio summaries to certain of its customers that listed ARS as "cash
25 equivalents." In fact, ARS were not "cash equivalents" and full liquidity was only available at an auction

1 if the auction was successful.

2 6. Although Wachovia Securities sold ARS as conservative, safe, and liquid investments to
3 its investors until February 2008, Wachovia had information that several auctions had failed in August
4 2007 and early 2008, before the mass failures in February 2008. During this same period of time,
5 Wachovia failed to inform its customers purchasing ARS after such auctions began to fail that certain
6 auctions would have failed had Wachovia or another broker-dealer not entered support bids in those 7 auctions.

8 7. Although Wachovia knew, or should have known, of the inherent risks and the recent 9 volatility of the ARS market, only minimal information regarding the ARS market was provided to 10 Wachovia Securities' retail ARS customers.

11 8. Wachovia and its registered securities agents were, or should have been, aware that the 12 ARS market was suffering from increasing failures and liquidity issues, and they should have disclosed
13 those facts to investors who were purchasing auction rates after such issues arose. Based on these facts,
14 Wachovia engaged in dishonest and unethical practices in the marketing and sale of ARS. Pursuant to 15 6 Del. C. § 7316(a)(7), these practices constitute grounds to revoke Wachovia's registration. These 16 practices included, among other things, the following:

17 a. Wachovia told some ARS investors purchasing ARS after the market disruptions
18 began to occur that:

- 19 i. ARS were cash equivalents;
20 ii. ARS were completely safe; and/or
21 iii. ARS were liquid at any time.

22 b. Wachovia was or should have been aware that the market for ARS was becoming 23 illiquid, yet Wachovia Securities continued to market and sell ARS to investors.

Temporary Maximum Rate Waiver on Certain ARS

9. The interest rates on ARS are reset periodically through the auction process. In the event that there is insufficient demand for a particular issue and an auction fails, the interest rate resets to a "maximum rate" or "failure rate" as defined in the offering documents for that particular issue. Typically, this maximum rate would be higher than prevailing market rates in order to compensate ARS holders who are unable to sell their positions and offer an "incentive" to induce buyers to return to the market although in some cases, particularly for student loan auction rates, the maximum rate might be lower than the prevailing rate.

10. In December 2007, with the encouragement of its underwriters, the Missouri Higher Education Loan Authority ("MOHELA") sought and secured approval to waive its maximum rate for certain issues of ARS. Absent such waivers, the ARS issued by MOHELA would not have been allowed to reset at interest rates high enough to clear auctions.

11. As a result of the maximum rate waivers, certain MOHELA ARS issues reset to a higher rate for a brief period after the waiver was implemented. However, due to a feature of those issues that caps the average interest rate over any given one-year period, the interest rates reset to 0% after the expiration of the waiver period. The ramifications of this maximum rate waiver were not explained to Wachovia Securities' customers who subsequently purchased MOHELA ARS.

12. Wachovia Securities engaged in dishonest and unethical practices by not adequately explaining to individual investors who purchased ARS with maximum rate waivers, among other things, the following:

- a. that the ARS interest rates could not be reset at a level that would prevent a failed auction absent the maximum rate waiver; and
- b. that the high interest rate allowed by the waiver would expire at the end of the waiver period unless extended by the issuer.

Pursuant to 6 Del. C. § 7316(a)(7), these practices constitute grounds to revoke Wachovia Securities'

1 registration.

2 Failure To Supervise Agents Who Sold ARS

3 13. Although ARS are complicated and complex products, Wachovia Securities did not
4 provide its sales or marketing staff with the training and information necessary to adequately explain
5 these products or the mechanics of the auction process to their customers. During the course of 6 investigations, on-the-record statements taken from Wachovia Securities' registered agents demonstrated
7 that these agents lacked a basic understanding of the functionality of the ARS products and the auction
8 rate market.

9 14. Many of Wachovia Securities' registered agents were not adequately educated in the 10 ARS products they were selling and did not know where to look for information to bolster that 11 knowledge. Wachovia Securities failed to provide timely and comprehensive sales and marketing
12 literature regarding ARS and the mechanics of the auction process. In addition, Wachovia Securities
13 failed to review account portfolio statements sent to its customers to ensure that they reflected accurate
14 information regarding ARS.

15 15. Wachovia Securities' failure to provide sufficient training and information concerning
16 ARS and the market environment in which they were sold was not limited to one or two agents, and is 17 therefore indicative of Wachovia Securities' failure to ensure that its registered personnel provided
18 adequate information regarding ARS to its customers.

19 16. Wachovia Securities failed to reasonably supervise its employees, which is grounds for 20 revocation of its registration under 6 Del. C. § 7316(a)(10):

21 a. failing to provide adequate training to its registered agents regarding ARS
22 by, among other things:

23 i. failing to provide timely and comprehensive sales and marketing
24 literature regarding ARS and the mechanics of the auction process;

25 ii. failing to provide pertinent information concerning the complexity of the 26

ARS product; and

iii. failing to ensure that its agents were selling ARS to individual investors for whom they were suitable; and

b. failing to review account portfolio statements sent to its customers to ensure that they reflected accurate information regarding ARS;

c. failing to review ARS transactions in accounts of customers who needed liquidity; and

d. failing to ensure that its registered personnel were providing adequate information regarding ARS to its customers.

II.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

17. The Commissioner has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 6 Del. C. § 7325.

18. The Commissioner finds Wachovia Securities failed to supervise its employees and engaged in dishonest or unethical practices in the securities business, and that this conduct constitutes grounds to revoke Wachovia Securities' registration under 6 Del. C. §§ 7316(a)(7) and (10).

19. The Commissioner finds this order and the following relief appropriate, in the public interest, and consistent with the purposes intended by the Act.

III.
